

Investment In Character 2018 Golf Classic

We will be playing Rain or Shine. See you at The International!

The International is a golfer's paradise, featuring two award-winning 18-hole golf courses, including the Robert Trent Jones designed The Pines plus one of the largest practice facilities in New England. Nestled in the rural orchard community of Bolton, Massachusetts and boasting panoramic views of the Nashoba Valley, the club is recognized for its accessibility and inclusive atmosphere.

We will be playing The Pines Course, the longest Golf Course in the US. Built in 1901, The Pines Course originally consisted of 66 acres of open farmland that proved to be ideal for a "short but tricky" nine-hole course. In 1954, Geoffrey Cornish, with input from Francis Ouimet, had the distinction of designing the regulation course that exists today. In 1972, Robert Trent Jones was contracted to enhance the experience and modify many of the slick greens and challenging bunkers. Although many options, The Pines is home to the signature "Tiger Tees" topping out at 8,325 yards and rated the longest and toughest course in America.
